HOT OFF THE PRESS

June

2008

A father is usually more pleased to have his child look like him than act like him.

A diplomat is a parent with two children on different Little League teams.

A real father is one who looks at his new child as an addition rather than a deduction.

The dictionary is the only place where success comes before work.

Words to Live By

The worst danger we face is the danger of being paralyzed by doubts and fears. This danger is brought on by those who abandon faith and sneer at hope.

- Harry S. Truman

Prosperity is that short period of time between the final installment and the next purchase.

It's incredible when we think how little our parents knew of child psychology and how wonderful we turned out to be.

Nearly every man is a firm believer in heredity until his son makes a fool of himself.

We read that a form of baseball was a favorite sport among the Greeks – we do remember something about a Homer.

Just about the time your income reaches the point where food prices don't matter - calories do.

There are three cases where supply exceeds demand: taxes, troubles and advice.

The modern father wants his child to have all the things he never had – such as straight A's on his report card.

The ideal summer resort is where fish bite and mosquitoes don't.

Lack of pep is often mistaken for patience.

Enjoy yourself. These are the “good old days” you're going to miss in the years ahead.

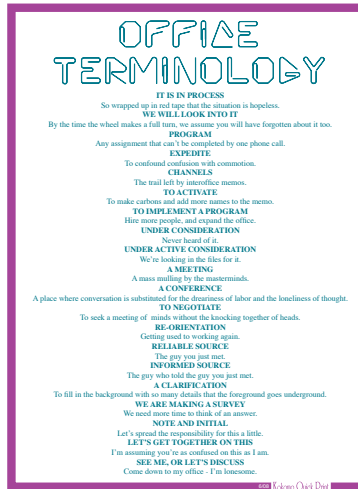

Things could be worse. Suppose your errors were counted and published every day like those of a baseball player.

A father is often a man who is working his son's way through college.

Monthly Parchment

Pictured above is a copy of this month's parchment we print for our friends. It is 8.5x11 and free for you to pick up during your next visit.

No matter where they seat you at a baseball game, you're always located between the hot dog peddler and his best customer.

The best sense of humor belongs to the person who can laugh at himself.

A friend is one who knows all about you and loves you just the same. - Hubbard

The thing that children outgrow fastest is their allowance.

If you're going to climb, you've got to grab the branches - not the blossoms.

Life can be understood backward, but it must be lived forward.

A man never gets so rich that he can afford to lose a friend.

Falling down doesn't make you a failure, but staying down does.

It's hard to recognize good luck. It looks so much like something you've earned.

Time may be a healer, but it's no beauty specialist.

It isn't what you have, but what you are, that makes life worthwhile.
