

Times Change

In the printing business, times are always changing. There are improved production methods, exciting developments in press technology, new inks and paper selections and unbelievable computer advances. These kinds of changes are good for us and our customers.

There is one thing, however, that will never change - our commitment to customer service and quality. We treat you with respect and appreciate your business. We pay attention to details and make your deadlines our deadlines. We strive to produce a flawless product, but take responsibility should anything go wrong. Some things should change. Some things shouldn't. We know the difference!

HOT OFF THE PRESS

August

2008

Some people never let ideas interrupt the easy flow of their conversation.

The secret of business is to count your blessings while others are adding up their troubles.

Hard work is usually an accumulation of easy things that should have been done last week.

The difference between gossip and news is whether you hear it or tell it.

Words to Live By

The pessimist sees the difficulty in every opportunity; the optimist the opportunity in every difficulty.

One thing you can give and still keep is your word.

The difference between antiques and junk depends on who's selling what to whom.

One thing most family trees have in common is a shady branch.

An expert is a person from another city; the farther away the city, the greater the expert.

Most cynics look both ways before crossing a one-way street.

Knowledge may have its limits - but not so with ignorance.

Compliments are like perfume; to be inhaled, not swallowed.

A compromise is a deal in which two people get what neither of them wanted.

Tackle any difficulty at first sight, for the longer you gaze at it the bigger it grows.

Our faults irritate us most when we see them in others.

Folks shouldn't be fearful of tomorrow because when it comes it'll be today.

To succeed - keep your head up and your overhead down.

Memory is a faculty that reminds you that you've probably forgotten something.

Air pollution is something we'll have to pay for through the nose.

Honesty is one business policy that will never have to be changed to keep up with the times.

You won't find many rules for success that will work unless you do.

You can usually determine the caliber of a man by ascertaining the amount of opposition it takes to discourage him.

Progress has little to do with speed, but much to do with direction.

Celery has negative calories - it takes more calories to eat a piece of celery than the celery has in it to begin with.

You need to start worrying about health if you can't sleep when it's time to get up.

"Did you reprimand your little boy for mimicking me?"

"Yes, I told him not to act like a fool."

One of the hardest secrets for a man to keep is his opinion of himself.

A wise man gives other people's opinions as much weight as he does his own.

Don't resent growing old - many are denied the privilege.
