HOT OFF THE PRESS

February 2009

Love is a ticklish sensation around the heart that can't be scratched.

Life is like a ten-speed bike. Most of us have gears we never use.

A banker's son said, "My pop went on a diet; there was too much collateral in his blood."

Years wrinkle the skin, but lack of enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

Words to Live By

There are two things to aim at in life: first, to get what you want; and, after that, to enjoy it. Only the wisest of mankind achieve the second.

The value of all things, even our lives, depends on the use we make of them.

Nine out of ten people who change their minds are wrong the second time, too.

An optimist is a person who goes into a restaurant without a dime and figures on paying for the meal with the pearl he hopes to find in the oyster.

The man who said taxes would keep us halfway broke was a lousy judge of distance.

A traffic light is a device for trapping you in the middle of an intersection.

True love doesn't have a happy ending; true love doesn't have an ending.

A gentleman in Ohio said, "Most people won't admit their faults. I'd admit mine if I had any."

Some folks are very punctual in always being late.

You can usually dodge a question with a long-winded answer.

Another smile does not make the giver poorer, but it does enrich the receiver.

Heaven on earth would be something like this: 1977 wages, 1932 prices, 1928 dividends and 1910 taxes.

Nothing improves the memory more than trying to forget.

Trouble is like muddy water: be patient, don't stir it, and it will soon clear up.

The greatest paradox of all is to speak of "civilized warfare".

An executive refused an employee's request for a raise, adding, "I know you can't get married on what I pay you - and someday you'll thank me for it."

The sophisticated equipment of today's weatherman is what enables him to explain in greater detail why he was wrong.

Many years ago they didn't put up signs reading, "Men Working", but back then you could tell what they were doing.

"Guilty or not guilty?"
"Not guilty."
"Have you ever been to prison before?"
"No, this is the first time I have stolen anything."

It may be true that most people can't stand prosperity. But it's also true that most people don't have to.

Love is more easily demonstrated than defined.

The only people who really listen to an argument are the neighbors.
